

Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, oriented upside down. The text is difficult to decipher due to the high contrast and graininess of the scan, but appears to contain several lines of cursive script.