

unit, upon any other unit, or upon any portion of the general common elements or limited common elements due to such reconstruction shall be permitted and valid easements for such encroachments and maintenance thereof shall exist so long as the building or buildings shall stand.

ARTICLE V. MAINTENANCE AND REPAIR.

1. No unit owner shall do or cause to be done any work affecting any individual unit which would jeopardize the soundness or safety of the condominium property, reduce the value thereof or impair any easement or hereditament therein. Further, and unless otherwise stated herein, no unit owner shall make or cause to be made any structural addition or alteration to his/her unit or to the general common elements or limited common elements nor make any alteration, replacement or change in or to the general common elements or limited elements nor shall he/she alter, replace, perform any work of any kind on the exterior of the building without in every such case first obtaining in writing the specific consent of the Board of Directors.

2. It shall be the responsibility of the Association to maintain, repair and replace:

(a) All portions of the unit which contribute to the support of the building, including main bearing walls, but excluding improvements to or decorating of the interior surfaces of walls, ceilings and floors within the unit.

(b) All portions of the unit which constitute a part of the exterior of the building, except the repair or replacement of windows or other glass surfaces which shall be the responsibility and liability of the respective unit owners.

(c) All of the general common elements and limited common elements, unless otherwise stated herein.

(d) All incidental damages caused by work done by direction of the Association.

3. It shall be the responsibility of the unit owner;
