

James the 24th day of September 1804 and part of a Tract Granted to the said A Mayfield The 31st day of March 1792 This conveyance includes all the Land of both the aforesaid Tracts that have not already conveyed and also I convey to the said Daniel Mayfield all my other property of every kind This transfer is made on the Conditions that the said Daniel Mayfield is bound to support and maintain the said Abraham Mayfield and his wife and also the remainder of their lives out of the profits and proceeds of the plantation and other property The support to be such as they have been accustomed to and proper for persons in their situation and to pay all the debts of the said Abraham Mayfield now owing after performing the conditions up to the time of their death which in the said Daniel's debt covenant and agree to whether the property is worth so much or not and to keep boundly all the other children from being liable to pay any thing for their support of the said Abraham Mayfield all this having been performed he is to have an absolute title to all Land in fee simple to him and his heirs forever and also all the other property that may be or shall be at the time Now the full understanding of the foregoing contract is simply this that the said Daniel Mayfield has here by deed conveyed and agree to maintain and support the said A Mayfield and wife as aforesaid and in consideration is to have the property that remains unsold at his death and the said Daniel Mayfield is to go into immediate possession of all the property and manage the same so as to enable him to pay the debts and provide support for the said Abraham Mayfield and wife It is moreover a part of this agreement that should there ever arise any difficulty between the parties touching the manner of the support of the said Abraham and wife and charge made against the said Daniel if not complying with his part of the contract the same shall be settled by each party choosing one man and they two or more to settle all controversy that might arise as to the faithful fulfilment of this contract and their decision shall be binding It is moreover a part of this agreement that the rest of the children of A. Mayfield cease from this date to have any interest in the property of the said Abraham Mayfield and are not liable in any manner for his support
