Greenville Woman Sentenced on Criminal Domestic Violence Of A High And Aggravated Nature

Thirteenth Circuit Solicitor Walt Wilkins states that JERICA JONEKA MCCULLOUGH, age 22, pled guilty on March 8, 2012 to aggravated domestic violence for an attack on the father of her child March 27, 2010. McCullough stabbed the victim in the upper arm during an argument at the apartment they shared at the time. The victim's injury was not life threatening. McCullough was sentenced to five years in prison suspended on the service of 18 months of home incarceration followed by thirty months of probation. She must successfully complete a twenty six week batterer's treatment program as a condition of her probation. She was also ordered to pay the victim $1643 in restitution for his medical bills.

Aggravated domestic violence is classified as a violent crime.
