To the Honorable Chairman, Members of County Council, and Citizens of Greenville County:

We are pleased to present this Annual Comprehensive Financial Report for Greenville County, South Carolina (the “County”). The South Carolina Code of Laws along with the Federal Single Audit Act of 1984 requires that all general-purpose local governments publish, within six months of the close of each fiscal year, a complete set of financial statements presented in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP) and audited in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America by a firm of licensed certified public accountants.

Management of the County assumes full responsibility for the completeness and reliability of the information contained in this report, based upon a comprehensive internal control framework established for that purpose. Because the cost of internal controls should not exceed anticipated benefits, the objective is to provide reasonable rather than absolute assurance that the financial statements will be free from material misstatement.

Mauldin & Jenkins, LLC has issued an unmodified (“clean”) opinion on Greenville County’s financial statements for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024. Their report is presented as the first component in the financial section of this report.

Management’s Discussion and Analysis (MD&A) immediately follows the independent auditor’s report and provides a narrative introduction, overview, and analysis of the basic financial statements. This transmittal letter is designed to complement the MD&A and should be read in conjunction with it.

Profile of Greenville County

The County, located in the “Upstate” of South Carolina, is a progressive, high-growth area for high technology manufacturing, corporate headquarters and international business investment. Greenville County, the largest county in South Carolina, occupies a land area of approximately 789 square miles and serves a population currently estimated at 564,475. The County is empowered to levy real and personal property taxes to support government operations for the citizens it serves.

The South Carolina General Assembly established Greenville County in 1786 and County Council in 1967. In 1973, a County Executive was appointed to oversee the daily operation of delivering county government services. In 1976, the County adopted the Council-Administrator form of government in accordance with the “Home Rule Act.”

The County Council consists of twelve members elected for four-year staggered terms and is the legislative, policy-making body. The County Council appoints the County Attorney, Clerk to Council and County Administrator. The County Administrator is responsible for day-to-day operations, implementation of County Council policy and appointment of senior level County staff. The following seven officials are elected: Auditor, Treasurer, Register of Deeds, Clerk of Court, Sheriff, Coroner and Probate Judge.

The County provides a full range of government services including law enforcement, judicial system, recreation, health services, social services, emergency medical transport, construction, infrastructure maintenance and comprehensive planning.

In addition to the various operational departments of the County, five blended component units are included within the financial information presented for the primary government. These include the Greenville County Public Facilities Corporation established in 1991, the Greenville County Tourism Public Facilities Corporation established in 2008, the Greenville County Business Park Public Facilities Corporation established in 2015, the University Ridge Public Facilities Corporation established in 2018 and the Greenville County Redevelopment Corporation (incorporated as the County Square Redevelopment Corporation) established in 2020. Financial transactions are processed through the County's financial system and are part of the County's audit.

The County also includes separate financial information for the following three discretely presented component units:

The Greenville County Redevelopment Authority (the "Authority") was created in 1969 under the provisions of Act 516 of the South Carolina General Assembly. The Authority's mission is to improve the quality of life for low and moderate-income citizens of the County through improved affordable housing. The County Council appoints all board members, approves federal grant requests and is financially accountable for any deficits. The Authority issues separate audited financial statements that are available at the Authority's office located at 301 University Ridge, Suite S-4300, Greenville, South Carolina 29601.

The Greenville County Library System (the "Library") was created by County Council in 1979. The Library board consists of eleven members appointed by County Council. The Library issues separate audited financial statements that are available at the Hughes Main Library located at 25 Heritage Green Place, Greenville, South Carolina 29601.

The Greenville Area Development Corporation ("GADC") was organized in 2001, exclusively for promoting and enhancing the economic growth and development of the County. The County Council appoints all board members, approves federal grant requests and is financially accountable for any deficits. GADC issues separate audited financial statements that are available at GADC's office located at 301 University Ridge, Suite N-4300, Greenville, South Carolina 29601.

State law requires that all political subdivisions of the State adopt balanced budgets. Further, each county council is required to adopt annually and prior to the beginning of the fiscal year, operating and capital budgets for the operation of county government. The County's biennium budget serves as the foundation for the County's financial planning and control. Although the legal level of appropriation is the fund, budgetary controls are exercised at lower levels of detail as well. The Management and Budget Office is authorized to transfer amounts between line-item accounts within a department or non-department account for the purpose of providing continuing county services approved by Council in the budget ordinance. Department directors are authorized to allocate appropriations within and between object accounts and departmental activities, with the exception of personnel services and contracts, as they deem appropriate in order to meet the objectives of the budget. Interdepartmental transfers, involving funds from one department or non-department account, to another department or non-department account, must be approved by County Council. Transfers of funds from the non-departmental personnel services accounts can be made by the Management and Budget Office to reflect merit increases and market adjustments as approved in the budget process by County Council without further action of Council. All appropriations lapse at year-end, except those established for capital projects or grants that survive the fiscal year.

Economic Condition of Greenville County

Local economy

Greenville County is the centerpiece of the region and the "economic engine of South Carolina." Situated in the northwestern corner of the State, Greenville County is part of one of the nation's fastest growing areas, "The I-85 Corridor." Greenville is located between Atlanta, Georgia and Charlotte, North Carolina on I-85. The Atlantic Ocean and Port of Charleston are 200 miles to the Southeast down I-26, and the Blue Ridge Mountains are just 15 minutes away. The Greenville-Spartanburg International Airport is the second busiest in the state and is served by most major airlines.

Greenville has what it takes to attract coveted new jobs and investment: skilled worker availability, exceptional quality of life, top ten Technical College, Blue Ribbon K-12 schools, low cost of living, low cost of doing business, excellent interstate access and numerous colleges and universities. With these competitive advantages, it is easy to understand why impressive and diverse collections of international and domestic firms have selected the region for their businesses. From disaster recovery software to polymer technology, biomedical engineering to molecular diagnostics, Greenville is home to a burgeoning tech ecosystem.

Under the accounting policy, GASB Statement No. 77, Tax Abatement Disclosures (GASB 77), that became effective during fiscal year 2017, the County was required to disclose about $4.5 million in abated property tax revenues for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024. These tax abatements allow the County to aggressively pursue new businesses. In 2023, the county announced capital investment of $596 million, along with 1,500 new jobs.
